What “No Change Fee” Really Means (Important)

One of the biggest misunderstandings in airline policies is the phrase “no change fee.”

No change fee does NOT mean zero cost.

It simply means United Airlines does not charge a penalty. If your new flight costs more than the original booking, you must pay the fare difference.

Example:

- Original ticket: $220
- New flight price: $310
- Change fee: $0
- Amount you pay: $90

Calling 📞 (855) 321-3345 ensures you know the exact amount before confirming the change.
